Welcome to my simple philosophy journal.

Over the years i've taken on all sorts of projects.
I've spent years studying people, religions, philosophy, music, etc...
I've learned a little bit about a lot of things.
The more i learn, the more i become aware of how little i know.

Somewhere along my way,
i decided i wanted to contribute something positive to the world.
I wanted to try to leave Earth a smidgen better then how i found it.

In the early 1990s, i started studying life.
In other words, instead of just being here,
I wanted to understand why I'm here and who am i?

As i digested more and more,
ideas would blossom out of my unconscious.
So i started keeping a simple journal of these ideas.
I wanted to express these ideas,
but didn't want to write too many words.
I felt and still feel that in modern days we are too busy to devote too much time studying the volumes of information on many topics.
I wanted to write ideas that are short and to the point.
Ideas that hopefully sparked thought.

I'm a left and right handed person.
I'm a creative and analytical person,

This is a collection of ideas that have blossomed out of my unconscious.

Ideas surface from the unconscious into our consciousness,
like a submarine surfaces on the ocean.

The order I have these thoughts laid out is that the newest ideas are first and as you read further they go back to 1994.

Oftentimes my thoughts might be related to what's going on in the world,
at that particular time.

Because i was born American, i also tend to have ideas about what's happening in the American culture and ideas about how the American culture affects the rest of the world.

Some thoughts are related to eternal ideas that are not confined to a particular time or culture.

i'm offering these ideas to the world,
hoping that somehow they can contribute to making our planet a better place.
i don't claim to live by these philosophies, i claim to be a student of them and trying to implement them into my life.

with much brotherly love,

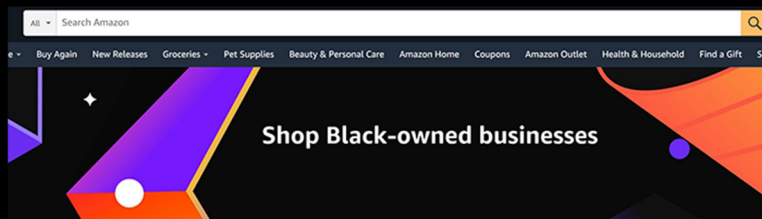

X

(This PDF is currently being put together. I have 30 years of simple ideas to pile in, it'll take some time.)

If it is racist and wrong to give preferences to "white" businesses,
i.e. "Shop White-owned businesses",
then it is racist and wrong to give preferences
to "Black" owned businesses.

It doesn't matter what race,
if the preference is based on race it's racist.

Here is a 60 year-old idea,

"I have a dream that my four little children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by their character."

Do you not believe in Martin's dream?

Any business, organization or individual who promotes preference based on race, is holding back Martin's dream from fruition.

i know this is sexist to say, but the truth is the truth...

Women on average, are better human beings than men.

To me,
this is another piece of evidence that there are true differences between men and women.

There are pros and cons to both genders.
The wise couple recognizes this and takes advantage of the strengths of each gender and work out how to handle the weaknesses.
If they do this,
there is a more complete wholeness developed in both individuals

In the American culture,
if it weren't for the existence of anti-depressants,
there would be many many more alcoholics and drug addicts.

Depression is a symptom of a depressing place.
An anti-depressant is a bandaid on a broken arm.
Eventually we have to deal with problems of our reality

"Jill and I have come to stand with you,

He added:

"Now's the time for people of all races,
from every background,
to speak up as a majority and American and reject white supremacy."

Replacement theory is a racist ideology,
which has moved from white nationalist circles to mainstream,
that alleges white people and their influence
are being intentionally "replaced" by people of color.""

They call it a theory, but just 4 months ago
i posted an example of just this type of replacement
by Joe Biden (scroll down further to read it).
Biden's words in January were not a theory,
they are quoted right out of his mouth.

He said that he would replace the supreme court seat
with a woman who is black.

Woman and black are the base qualifications for the seat to be filled.

If you are a judge of any other race or gender, you are immediately disqualified based on your race and/or gender,

not on your legal knowledge and expertise.

This action is racist. Joe Biden is a racist.

I'll repeat what i said on 11AUG2020,
"racism produces more racists".

Joe Biden's racists ways are producing more racists.

Guns don't shoot people, people shoot people.
If you put a loaded hand gun on a table,
it will never point itself at somebody and pull the trigger.
It takes a finger.

The problem isn't the gun, knife, crowbar, poison, fist, etc.....
it's that someone chose to murder.

Where there is a will, there is a way.
If someone's will is to murder they will find a way.

"a presidential campaign promise,

By definition, Joe Biden is a racist and sexist.

The worst part about this is the fact that the supreme court and legal scholars all over the country

These law educated leaders should be aware of the power and potential danger of a precedent

The death of

Adam Toledo

is tragic.

After seeing the video,
i have no problem with the way the officer handled the situation.

Adam had a weapon and was resisting arrest.
In a dangerous environment,
the officer had a split second to figure out how to handle the situation.
Sure, there might have been 1 second when Adam didn't have the gun in his hand, but that's simply 1 second.

What person roaming the streets at night with a handgun and resisting arrest is up to doing good?
According to the evidence,
Adam and Ruben had apparently already shot at a passing vehicle.

Why isn't anybody asking why a 13 year old is roaming the streets at night with a handgun?
I haven't seen one person ask this obvious question.

Instead, people watch a video clip and declare the officer a murderer.
The officer didn't have the option to check a replay from the comfort of his home.
He had to make a difficult life and death decision in bad lighting and in a split decision or his family may never see him again.

How well can you make that choice?

Put yourself in his shoes before you offer your opinion.

It takes brave heroes to protect our community from people with guns, doing suspicious things at night.

Why did Adam put everybody in this situation?

When are we going to finally start judging people by the content of their character and not the shade of their brown?

Adam wasn't at choir practice,
he was a suspect fleeing the scene of a shooting.

I said it before and will say it until I don't have to,
If people didn't commit crimes and resist arrest, 90% of the cases people are protesting wouldn't exist.

"Racism plain and simple"
("New York City Mayor called it")

She wrongly thought somebody stole her phone.

There isn't a single piece of evidence in this story pointing to her motivation being based on race. She is assumed to be racist because of her race. The only victim of racism in this story is clearly her.

Hey ABC,

what does alcohol have to do with Anybody can make that mistake, she owes this kid an apology.

Maybe it's a crime to try to wrestle your seemingly stolen property back, if so bust her for that.this current story or racism?

i've been drunk many times and it didn't make me into a racist.

i've seen many people get drunk and it never made them into a racist.

This is simply a character attack for no apparent related reason.

Why didn't you tell us about her speeding tickets too, they are just as relevant.

Hey Everybody,

Did you see how ABC news edited the clip to pause on the crazy look from the woman's face?

Any one of us could have as crazy a look on our faces, if you pause the video at a crazy frame.

Why ABC?

Obviously this clip was all the evidence ABC had of racism of this woman, because if they had any real evidence, it would be in the clip.

This just reminds me why we can't trust the media to tell us what's going on.

i can't count how many times i've seen the media shape and package stories to fit a particular agenda.

It's crystal clear that we common people need to seriously question the information fed to us through these questionable organizations.

This is just another example of how misinformation is tearing down the American culture.

When the only evidence in a "white" person's racism is the color of their skin,
the true racist is probably in the mirror.

Americans voted a corporate businessman to be their president.
Now they are going to find out what motivates a corporate businessman.

In the United States there are laws to protect citizens from overly aggressive and often immoral business pursuits by businesses.
America is now finding out what happens when a businessman becomes the leader of the same laws.

In the near future,

The underlying reason republicans want a smaller government is so that they can have bigger corporations.

It's an interesting fact that while republicans want the government to be less involved in our lives and smaller, they voted to allow corporations to get more involved in our lives and bigger.
Corporations can now legally monitor, log and analyze us.

It's one thing that a corporation monitors us without our conscious permission, it's a whole other thing.... when the government legalizes it.

Wow.

Another senseless death. Another innocent victim.
Another selfish murderer who has no regard for someone else's life.

In reading the comments on the net about the senseless murder of

Christina Grimmie

i find people talking about needing more gun laws or to ban guns.
This argument has been going on for years because violence and murder have been out of control in the United States for years.

After every daily shooting,
we still find this same argument being debated.

The problem with banning guns is that "where there's a will there's a way".

If the will of someone is to murder, then that person will find a way.

i.e.,

Stabbed to Death

Strangled to Death

Beaten to Death

etc.....

The problem with this murder/violence isn't the weapon used to kill,
it's the mindset of the killer.

Without this mindset there would be no such thing as murder,
not even one.

What is it that shapes the murderer's mindset?

To answer this question,
we have to look closer at a culture that breeds this type of person.
i'm sadly recommending starting this study in the United States.
This is where this type of murder is most common.

So my idea to help stop "tragedies such as this", is only a "Step 1".
We need to recognize the true root of the problem.
Many people need to stop barking up the wrong tree.
It's not the choice of weapon that's a problem,
it's the fact that a person has made a choice to murder.

Once this fact is understood, we can finally begin to heal this horrible spiritual cancer within society.
Until this spiritual cancer is dealt with,
"Meet and Greets" and the rest of an open and happy society will hide behind thicker and thicker security.
We've been moving that direction for decades and it's a sad state to be in.

consider whether or not the people being apprehended have actions that are criminally based.

Only vote for government representatives who have actually held a 40 hour a week job for at least 20 years. Those that have actually experienced common life are most likely the ones who would have the best chance at successfully managing it.

The United States is the inventor and implementor of the Matrix.
The Matrix is not just a fictional movie, it's currently a reality.
In some parts of the world, people are fighting machines daily.
We are now living amongst the Matrix 1.0 and it'll evolve like everything else.
And like everything else, it's neither good nor bad,
but the force driving it is.

Americans are not safe from this either.
There are currently plans to fly drones in the US, thousands of them.
Sure the corporate controlled politicians tell us
it's for monitoring and good reasons, they won't be armed.
This is what they said about the international use of drones.
Initially drones were simple remote control planes for surveillance,
but now they are fighter jets killing people.
Once the American public got use to the idea of monitoring with drones,
the government started using them for other killing purposes.
Kinda like when the American congress creates a new law.

The United States is truly a danger to the whole world.
It's no mystery why so many want to attack and destroy the United States.

of the no-so-innocent American government that generates this hatred.

If we use George W. Bush's logic, he said,
"get the terrorists and anybody supporting them"

Americans support the secret activities of the American government and these secret activities are not always nice and fair.
It's no surprise that Americans get targeted too, they're clearly the supporters of this secret activity of it's government.

How many times do i have to say this, people of America wake up.

Brown People

It's too bad so many people (of all shades of brown) get hung up living their lives fretting over "color" or being a "color".

We are all shades of brown.

True white or black people are extremely rare.
i've only seen a handful of them in my light-brown life.

If i sit out in the sun a lot, my skin will get darker.
If generations of people do this their skin will be darker, naturally.

If i get less sun, my skin will get lighter.
If generations of people do this, their skin will be lighter, naturally.
i understand this theory of skin tone and i'm not even a scientist, i have no degree.

If you asked me how i developed this true understanding,
i'd have to tell you, i used my eyes.

If you have faulty eyes, you might not understand.

There are deeper and more meaningful topics to grow into.
Millions miss those spiritually enlightening stories,
due to preoccupation with "color".

i agree with Martin Luther King when he stated, that he can't change the hearts of men,
but he can change the laws that govern us.

Thank you Martin for your earthly life
in exchange for the new laws that exist now, that keep all men legally equal in this country.

Now if we can get all people of all shades of brown, to treat all brothers and sisters the way they want to be treated,
we might to start to see the hearts of men change also.

Of course skin tone is only one of many ways people get hung up spiritually.
As time rolls forward, less people are getting hung up on such a trivial issue as

"color".

If you want to avoid getting stuck in the same condition;

1

Don't prejudge someone base on their shade of skin.
i've found in my 39 years that bad, wicked, evil, good, great, intelligent, stupid, talented, strong, weak, amazing and lost people come in all shades of brown.

Remember the old saying,
"Don't judge a book by its cover"?

If you need to express someone's skin color (like to a cop who asks for a description of a person), tell it like you see it, Were they really white or black?

Or were they truly some shade of brown?
Maybe describe them as Caucasian or African, etc..

Don't become part of some organization that is based in skin tone.
So if a requirement to join the KKK, Black Panthers, "White" or "Black" clubs, schools or organizations has something to do with shade of skin,
avoid affiliation.

Let's finally move to a colorless society,
because if you open your eyes and look,
you will rarely see the colors you project onto people.

The following ideas came from my journal over the last 15 years.
We both have a philosophy that is trying to achieve peace in the world, but my philosophy doesn't cost $19.95, it's free.

i want as many people as possible to read my philosophies
in hopes that together we can solve world problems.
i put no dollar value in front of this philosophy
because i don't want to slow down anyone's interest in reading these philosophies.

And more importantly,
i don't want to slow down a person's pursuit for world peace,
because of a price.

It costs very little to put a lot of useful information on a webpage.
It need not cost $19.95.

i pay less than that a month for my whole website, documents, images, audio and video, 200gb of space total.
i'm willing to donate that cost out of my monthly wage for world peace.

Many great people gave their entire earthly lives to the pursuit of world peace,
and never charged a cent.

If you're interested in free philosophy that might help our desperate situation on this planet, or maybe the desperate situations within us, browse the links on philosophyofx.com, they're free.

If democracy is so great that it's worth killing hundreds of thousands of human beings (someone's children) to install it in Iraq or anywhere else, are the thousands of children missing, or the thousands of children being exploited and molested all over the world every day, worth the same?

i won't fight and kill so Bush and his friends can do business in Iraq, but the moment i find the military that fights for the lives of these exploited and molested children, i'll fight.

Shouldn't somebody invade America to find missing children? Couldn't the methods, efforts and equipment used to locate Saddam, be used to find all these children?

These children were missing long before the Iraq wars and the amazing American military might did nothing.

As far as i'm concerned, the missing and exploited children of the world, are the most valid reason for declaring an all out WAR.

If you think that being amazed at what you can do is humility,

In the News,

"Juvenile offender executed in Texas for 1990 slaying
January 25, 2000

Web posted at: 8:18 PM EST (0118 GMT)

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) --

A man was executed by injection Tuesday for fatally shooting a female Laundromat clerk when he was 17.

Glen Alan McGinnis was convicted of shooting 30 year old Leta Ann Wilkerson in the head, shoulders and back while stealing $140.

The Vatican, the European Union, the American Bar Association and a collection of anti-death penalty groups pleaded for the life of McGinnis, 27, because he was a juvenile when he killed Ms. Wilkerson in 1990.

McGinnis said in a recent interview that he didn't want to use his difficult childhood
as an excuse for his crime.

After his father abandoned him,
the young man lived in a one-bedroom apartment
with a mother who traded sex for crack cocaine.
McGinnis was raped as a child and beaten with an extension cord.

Why not?...

The whole world needs to know about this,

-----

What a horrible crime Glen committed.
I'd be willing to bet money,
that if i was raised in the same environment,
i might very well have committed the same crime.
For me to have a hard time believing that i could ever commit that crime, is due to the fact that i wasn't raised in the same environment.

i had a loving father and mother who taught me to respect people, even animals.
i can't see me robbing a store and killing someone.

Had Glen had the same upbringing i had,
i'd put money on it, he'd probably be like me.

Oftentimes opportunities can make a difference.
It doesn't sound like Glen had much opportunity in his short life.

An important note about Glen is that he didn't want to use his upbringing as an "excuse for his crime."

If he won't, i will.

His upbringing had a major influence on him having such a lack of respect for another human being.

The amazing part about this statement by Glen,
is that it shows humility and recognition of his fucked up ways.

This statement is proof that he matured beyond who he was,
but America still killed him.

He would have been a great spokesman for positive changes in others who suffered through and were shaped by that kind of rough childhood.

How can any of us "normal" people ever think we can communicate and help people with a mindset like young Glen?

If we only had someone who had had that mindset
and matured beyond it,
we could use this matured person
to relate, communicate and potentially heal others with the same psychological scars and damage.

I'm a firm believer that his mind was twisted in a way that makes him a potential danger to society,
so keep him locked up.

But he matured and became something productive and positive from jail.

Glen was a waste of a matured mind.
Our society is in desperate need of mature people.

Everything You Ever Wanted To Know About Dreams

Wait... let me get this straight, we live in a world that our body won't make it out of here.

When we sleep,
we live in a world where we live without a body.

Seems to me we should take interest in that world.

You wanna make it outta here?

So, what do you think of dreams?

When interpreting a dream of a close friend (in the spiritual sense), keep in mind that it closely resembles an answer to your own life.
This is because the friend is probably very similar to your likes and dislikes,
your righteousness and wickedness.
The faults you see in your close friend
are probably in you, in a smaller or larger dose.
